TWO DROWN.

Peter Wilson And Clarence Robinson, Fishermen, Lose Lives Near Kosmosdale.

Peter Wilson, aged thirty-eight years, and Clarence Robinson, aged thirty-four years, fishermen, were drowned in the Ohio river near Kosmosdale, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning. They started out to cross the river to the Indiana side to trim their fishing line when the wind caused the water to become rough and overturned the skiff. Both wore rubber boots and heavy clothes and sank after floundering about for a few minutes.

Squire White, a fisherman, and Harry Applegate, a farmer, saw the men in the water and started to their aid in a skiff, but the men sank for the last time before the rescuers could reach them. Wilson was an excellent swimmer, but Robinson was not.

Wilson and Robinson had been fishermen in the neighborhood of Kosmosdale for two years. Both were married. Wilson is survived by his widow. Robinson leaves a widow and six children. Both men were members of the Kosmosdale Lodge of Modern Woodmen, and that organization offered a reward of $15 each for the recovery of the bodies. Wilson wore a Masonic emblem on his coat, and Robinson wore a Woodmen emblem.—Louisville Times.

THE CIRCUS HAS COME TO TOWN.

Howe's Wonderful London Shows Pitch Their Tents In Cloverport

Folks Get Up Early To See Show Men Unload Trains And Have Lots Of Fun With Them.

GREAT CROWD IS EXPECTED.

Brass Bands, Elephants, Peanuts, Clowns, Caged Lions, Red Lemondes, Green Balloons, Monkeys, (all kinds) have hit Cloverport with the circus today. Early this morning the long show train pulled in the City and were unloaded in the Breckinridge addition where the show men pitched their tents in a hurry. A large crowd of small boys were on the grounds to welcome them and within a short while a bunch of girls from the town were on the scene, watching for Kate Dowley, the circus beauty. About nine o'clock Miss Dowley slipped from her private car and went to the big tent where a good looking man met her at the entrance. The girls forgot Kate, then, and the next time they saw her she was in Mrs. Polk's store, buying a tub hat.

Emma La Low, "Queen of the high wire" tripped over to a trio of boys and asked "where is Ed Alexander's store pitched?" The boys were scared to death and said Hardinsburg, but they meant Irvington. She passed on and just as she darted into a side show she threw a kiss to a man from Nolte's store that was down there, trying to sell the show people butter and eggs.

One little rag-a-muffin, that evidently belonged to the show came in the Bank of Cloverport, crying and said he was looking for Sawyer's store where his Mammas was "at," but when his Mammas was found she was in Severs Drug Store buying face and lip paint. The little boy and his Mammas went to Cordrey's hat store and asked if Miss Laura Hase was there, and they told her she had trimmed hats at Jolly's store at Irvington.

These show people were intensely interesting. They seemed to have heard about all the business enterprises in Breckinridge County. One intelligent looking graduate asked the Breckinridge bank if J. Bacon's was the only store in Lumberville.

The Lion Trainer and the Elephant guide were most enthusiastic over up-to-date vehicles and inquired of a news representative how far Currie and Irvington were from this place, said they wanted to go to Ashcraft's and Taylor & Suter's store because they read their ad in the News last week. Of course, then everybody understood how they knew about those places, they had

DELIGHTED.

Friends of Hon. Ben Johnson In Cloverport Rejoice Over The News That He Wants to Be Governor.

JUST THE MAN THEY NEEDED

When the word came from Washington that Hon. Ben Johnson will make the race for Governor of Kentucky, there was much rejoicing among the Delegates of this City, and for several days they have been talking the good news over continually. Just who were the prominentsmile, Tom Tousley or James Younger over the announcement could not be decided by the happy Democrats, but all of them are more than pleased.

It is said, that Mr. Johnson does not mean he has begun or expects to soon begin anything like a canvass for the important office mentioned for he has other political plans to accomplish first.

In Washington Mr. Johnson is known as "the silent man" who does things." The Democratic leaders throughout the state are saying that Johnson is the man needed to redeem their party in Kentucky.

been reading a copy of the Breckenridge news.

The afternoon performances will begin at 2, and the night at 8 o'clock.

EKRON.

Will Have a Nice, New School Building. Work of Erection Begins at Once.

Contractor J. K. Bramlette, has just closed a new contract with the citizens of Ekron for a large two story graded school building. Mr. Bramlette will employ from fifteen to twenty men and they will begin work about the first of May. Mr. Bramlette has another deal on hands for a handsome residence in Hardinsburg.

Mrs. Moremen III

At Brandenburg.

Mrs. W. Moremen, one of the best known and loved women of Meade County, is ill at her home near Brandenburg.

Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Moremen, of Irvington, were called to her bedside Saturday.

Marries Rich.

Word has been received that Miss Pearl Gregory, of Frankfort, and Mr. W. M. Martin of Denver Col., are married.

Miss Gregory is remembered here. Mr. Martin is a multi-millionaire.

Sunday School Convention.

The District Sunday School Convention, of the Hardinsburg Magisterial District will be held at the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Garfield, May 29.

Programs will appear in next week's paper.

Glasscock--Butler.

Mr. Levi Butler, son of John Butler, and Miss Laura Glasscock went to Cincinnati Monday to be married. The bride is the pretty daughter of Mr. Jas. H. Glasscock, of McDaniels.

HARDINSBURG.

Judge Moorman, was in Louisville a few days last week.

Mrs. E. B. English, of Owensboro, visited her sister, Mrs. Marvin Beard several days of last week.

Gus Shelleman is having a plato glass front put in his store. Two show windows will also be added to better display his growing variety of goods.

Joe Trent of Custer, was in town Saturday.

Sheriff Finley Miller went to Leitchfield Friday to take Aaron Hook, who was arrested here after having been indicted by the Grayson county grand jury on the charge of forgery.

H. C. Woosley of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Plant Industry, with headquarters at Lexington, has been here for several days arranging to start an Agricultural Experiment Station. He has secured six acres of land from Taylor Beard, at the depot, upon which the work will begin this year. As the work grows the will be increased to twenty. Upon these twenty acre tests of fertilizers and crop rotation will be made with a view to acquainting our farmers with the actual needs of Breckinridge county soils. Mr. Woosley has two other stations, one in Christian county and one in Fayette. One third of his time will be spent here and the rest at the other two points.

News has been received here of the Nebraska State Legislature's purchasing the school property and equipment of the late Jas. M. Pile, at Wayne, Nebraska, for $90,000. Fred M. Pile, son, of the founder of the school has leased the school plant for the next two years, after which it will pass into the possession of the State for State Normal use.

Mr. Conover was well known here, having visited in the City several times with his wife, who was Miss Grace Foote, of Owensboro.

Mr. Conover had been in ill health since Christmas, and just a few weeks ago he and Mrs. Conover returned from Hot Springs, Ark., where they had been thinking the place would help him.

The funeral was held at Cincinnati Friday afternoon. Miss Cecil Foote arrived there Wednesday to be with Mrs. Conover, who will return to Owensboro with her soon. Mrs. Conover's father, Mr. Ed. Pile has come home from Texas to be with his daughter for several days.

Commissioner Lee Walls made three sales at the Court House Monday: Two tracts of land belonging to the Bennett heirs, near Helm Spring Branch, to J. Finley Miller for $250. A three-fifths interest in the old Harrison West Branch, near Constantine, $0 acres to Steve Whitworth, for $100. Two tracts of the Shrewsbury land, near McQuady, to Ben T. Miller for $1250.

In the County court Monday a change in the road from Kingswood to Harned was granted as petitioned for by Rev. J. W. Hughes and others.

The will of the late Joe Shorshell was admitted to probate Monday. Charley T. Miller, of Cannelton, Ind., nephew of the deceased, was made administrator.

Stephensport will take a vote on the graded school proposition. Owing to their being a day late in filing the petition the vote cannot be taken before July.

Charley Durham is out again after several weeks illness.

Paul Compton and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Compton, of Garfield Sunday.

Mary Harris has resigned his position at the H. L. & St. L. shops in this city and is now devoting his time to his rock crusher at Webster. Mr. Harris is doing an extensive business, and goes back and forth from this city to the quarry every day or two.

No trace of beauty can pass or perish, but other beauty is somewhere born;
No seed of truth or good be planted, but the yield must grow as the growing corn.

—Bliss Carman.

W. J. PIGGOTT was in this city last Wednesday enroute to his home from Tobinsport where he conducted the Masonic services at the funeral of Mr. Till Groves.

Mr. Piggott is a prominent Mason, a leading Republican and a successful business man of Breckenridge county. A little more than twenty-five years ago, he, with several young men, left their homes in England and sailed the waters for America to seek their fortunes.

Mr. Piggott's ambition was to attain a definite and practical knowledge of farming and he did so by working on Thos. J. Jolly's farm near Bewleyville. While he was learning to till the soil there, Mr. Piggott also worked hard and fast to win the heart and hand of Miss Clara Jolly, of Hardinsburg. They spent their early married life on their farm at Bewleyville and now have a beautiful home at Irvington, where Mr. Piggott is one of the town's foremost promoters. He has several business enterprises there, the largest one being the Irvington Mill Company, and he is president of the First State Bank. The Republicans think Mr. Piggott would make an exceedingly acceptable candidate for senator.

Mr. and Mrs. Piggott have two excellent sons, Messrs. Hubert and Joe Piggott, and an attractive young daughter, Miss Elizabeth Pigott.

Commencement day for the Cloverport High School is drawing near and the sweet girl graduates are busy planning their dainty frocks and the young men are busy composing their orations for the commencement exercises which will be held Friday evening, May twenty-eighth. There are five young people to be graduated this year: Miss Reba Lewis, Miss Emilie Lewis, Messrs. Louie Ditzbenbach, Virgil Babbage and James Burk. Prof. Wroo is making arrangements now for the program and we are looking forward to the event with great pleasure.

Jerry Tiltford, one of the oldest passenger conductors in the service of the Henderson Route, has been off duty for several weeks on account of sickness. During a service of nearly twenty years this is the first time he has had to quit work. His host of friends hope his illness is only temporary and that he will soon be at his accustomed place on the Branch.

Ernest Henderson and Jonas Lyons have good reports from their early corn planting. They say it is all up, a splendid stand and looks fine. We wish we had a thousand acres more in this county of early planting to report on. Every farmer in the county, large or small, should get onto the plan of early planting.

J. T. Dutschke, of Franklin Cross Roads, was over Sunday to see his father, August Dutschke, whom he reports in very much better health than he expected to find him. He also visited his uncle, Julius Dutschke at Holt. The Dutschke folks are fine, cheery people and we wish we had more friends like them.

It seems now that we are to have eggs standing around the 20 cent mark all summer. April is the great packing month in the year and there is a big shortage. The hens it is claimed are not doing their usual good work and are away behind in their production, so the consumer, poor fellow, will have to pay the piper.

Hawkins Smith has brightened up his farm, out houses and fence with a coat of whitewash. His is a nice, attractive farm and home and makes a splendid showing from the railroad. Other farmers along the Branch should follow suit.

Roadmaster Stites was over on the Branch Monday preparing to put that road in good condition. The track between Glendale and Rockvale is to be raised above high water mark and other improvements made.

There is a big lot of fertilizer being sold this Spring in the Custer district. Harrington Bros. report that they have sold 50 tons alone. They say there will be probably 150 tons used in that neighborhood.

Lee Montgomery, freight conductor, on the branch reports business on that road splendid. He says they have handled more merchandise, fertilizer and farm implements than in many years.

There is a good deal of complaint among farmers of the fly in tobacco plant beds. The cold weather of last week gave the fly an excellent opportunity to get in his work.

Cupid in Cloverport must have spring fever. The News has not yet received any marriage announcements for June weddings.

Two more counties in Indiana went "dry" last Monday, making in all 44 "dry" counties in that state.

One cannot say there is "nothing doing" in Cloverport today for we have church, the post-office and a circus.

All tobacco growers in this county, so far as the News has been able to find out, will stick to the 10,000 plants to the hand.

TO TAX PAYERS

Those parties who are owing 1906, 1907, 1908 taxes are hereby notified that these taxes are past due and must be paid. If they are not settled at once will be compelled to advertise property. This is my last year and I am compelled to close up my books.

The Limit Of Wheat

Thirty years ago the world's wheat production was about 2,000,000,000 bushels a year. It now stands at 3,200,000,000 bushels. This increase is out of proportion to the increase in the world's population; it is evident that wheat as a food substance is displacing other commodities previously used. Increase in production in this country has been a little more rapid than the average of world increase. The American crop of thirty years ago averaged about 300,000,000 bushels and it is now about 600,000,000.

The variation of conditions from year to year makes impossible any exact statement, but the figures of the last five years show a large decline in the percentage of American wheat exported. From 1880 to 1889 about 30 per cent. of the total crop was exported, and from 1890 to 1899 about 35 per cent. The average of the last five years has been about one-half that of preceding twenty years. While the percentage of possible increase has not yet been reached there is little or no probability that the acreage, if it is at all extended, will increase as rapidly as it did in earlier years when new railways were opening new areas to settlement and cultivation. In fact the largest acreage, in the record was that of 1901, when 49,805,514 acres were planted. The year of 1905 followed with 49,464,967 acres. The figures for 1907 drop to 45,211,000. It is conceivable, though little probable, that another ten years may see 60,000,000 acres in wheat. The great probability is that the increase in acreage will not keep pace with the increase in domestic demand and that the predictions of some observers regarding the diminution of wheat exports will be justified.

The possible approach to the maximum of wheat acreage is not at all the equivalent of approach to the maximum of wheat production. The average wheat yield for the last twenty years has been thirteen and a half bushels to the acre. Here is the weak spot in our national wheat business. The value of the American export for the last ten years show an average of about $10,40. As land increases in value it becomes impossible to raise wheat at a profit on any such basis. The State of New York produced more wheat in 1883 than in 1907. New England is practically out of the wheat business. Comparing the yield of 1883 with that of 1907, an increase appears in Pennsylvania and Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, Tennessee and Kentucky show fluctuation from year to year, but no material change in ten years averages. Michigan shows a shrinkage of about one-half, and Wisconsin appears to be abandoning the industry altogether. Indiana and Illinois hold their own. Iowa shows marked decline. The grain comes principally in the States of later settlement, the frontier States where land a few years ago was cheap.

The conclusion is inevitable that with the passing of cheap land there must also be a passing of cheap wheat, unless there shall be devised and adopted some plan of regulation of wheat cultivation, with decided increase in yield to the acre. The alternative will be importation, duty free, from countries that still have cheap land.—New York Sun.

Walker--Pate.

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Walker, near Mattingly, at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon a quiet home wedding was solemnized in the presence of a number of Friends and relatives, the occasion being the marriage of their daughter, Miss Berlie Judson Walker, to Mr. Old Pate, son of Len Pate, of Kossmodele.

The bride is a favorite with a wide circle of friends, and was formerly a teacher in the public schools.

The groom is an ex-soldier, having been in Uncle Sam's service, at present he is a carpenter at Kossmodele where he and his bride will make their home.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Isiah Cline, of Hardinsburg.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease which is still rampant in this section, and that is Cancer. Hall's Cancer Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional remedy. Hall's Cancer Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and curing the most malignant by natural processes and assimilation in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure.

Shall We Pool.

The question in every one's mouth is, "Are we going to pool this year?" Every tobacco leader has been asked this question hundred's of times the past month; and every time he has been asked it we will wager he has asked the party asking it, "Are you going to pool?" This is the whole question, "It makes little difference what the leaders say or think, but what the people say or think is important. If they are going to pool, the question is settled. If they are not, the question is still open. How can we tell what they will do? There is just enough room in the world for all who ever were, and more and more can be accomplished than ever. The business system to handle the pool is established, the people have money ahead, the business world has been shown the practicability of our plans, our opponents have learned to respect us, fierce opposition is crushed, and those who refused to join heretofore are everywhere declaring their intention of being in the next time. We are inclined to think there will be a pool because we believe in the people's common sense.—A. S. of E. Tobacco News.

But It Was A Filly.

The thoroughbred mare adversity, owned by J. T. Griffith, of Owensboro, Ky., and bought by him of J. B. Haggard, of Lexington, who gave birth this week to a filly colt, by First Water. Mr. Griffith had contracted to sell this at weaning time to Matt Byrne, of New York, the manager for J. B. Haggard: for $500 provided the colt was a male. This is said to be the largest price ever offered for a Daviess county weanling.—Farmers Home Journal.

of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites should always be kept in the house for the following reasons:

First—Because, if any member of the family has a hard cold, it will cure it.

Second—Because, if the children are delicate and sickly, it will make them strong and well.

Third—Because, if the father or mother is losing flesh and becoming thin and emaciated, it will build them up and give them flesh and strength.

Fourth—Because it is the standard remedy in all throat and lung afflictions.

No household should be without it.

Knowledge Is Life.

Much of the misery and suffering in the world is caused by ignorance. Many of the epidemics of disease that have killed tens of thousands of human beings could have been prevented if only the people had known what was necessary to be done to prevent them. Knowledge, then, is more than power; it is life itself.

"Your majesty," replied Birbar without out loss of time, "is like the full moon, while the emperor, my master, resembles the crescent."

The king was highly pleased with his reply and let him go.

This news was, however, carried to Akbar, who was wild with rage when he heard it. When he returned to his master's court he was asked to explain himself on pain of death.

"My compassion," said Birbar, "meant only this much and nothing more—that the decline of the Persian king's power had commenced, just as the full moon, when it is full, goes on waning, until it is no more than a crescent, becoming the full moon in time, it will shine forth with magnificent splendor or glory."

The emperor, who was a great patron of wit and wisdom, heaped the rajah with rewards.

on business principles than the wives of men, and that they probably are better helpers were the declarations of Miss Martha Van Rensselaer, lecturer in economics at Cornell University and supervisor of the farmers' wives reading course, to an audience of city women.

Miss Van Rensselaer was discussing the science of home management and pointed out that nowadays it was as important for a woman to know how to run a home on business principles as it was for her husband to conduct his business that way. She said that women from the country are much easier than city women to teach scientific management of the home, and attributed this fact to a desire to be more of a helpmeet to him. The city women do not do she said.—N. Y. Sun.

The Seven-Gored Skirt

Is Much Worn.

One of the smartest and most practical skirts of the season is cut in seven gores—always a popular and becoming model—and fits from the waistline to the knees in the modish sheath effect, widening gradually thence to the lower edge, where it measures about three and three-eighths yards in the maximum size. A novel and striking feature is observed in the extension of the fit of the front gore, which, with the aid of buttons or loops or buttonholes, ingeniously serves to simulate a side-front closing. If desired, however, the extension may be cut off and the gore finished plainly. In either case the fastening is at the center of the back, where an inverted plait serves to conceal it—although it might very easily be effected at the side-front if preferred. The skirt may be finished in round or shorter lengths, either style being correct for a smart walking skirt. It is adapted for development in a great variety of materials, since it is equally appropriate for dressy or practical wear. Silk and fabrics may be used for making it.—The New Idea Woman's Magazine for May.

SAFETY BOTH WAYS.

The Way Rajah Birbar Saved His Head by Edgar Wallace.

Rajah Birbar, in loco command of the Emperor Akbar, the great contemporary of Queen Elizabeth, was a notable wit. The story goes that the emperor once sent Birbar with a message to the king of Persia.

The latter, for some reason or other, bore a grudge against the rajah and in order to see him dead, sent the emperor's orders to him to kill himself.

He asked Birbar: "Which of us two is greater in power and majesty—I or Akbar? But, mind you, if your answer is in any way unfavorable to me, I will order your head to be struck off."

"Your majesty," replied Birbar without loss of time, "is like the full moon, while the emperor, my master, resembles the crescent."

The king was highly pleased with his reply and let him go.

This news was, however, carried to Akbar, who was wild with rage when he heard it. When he returned to his master's court he was asked to explain himself on pain of death.

"My compassion," said Birbar,

"meant only this much and nothing more—that the decline of the Persian king's power had commenced, just as the full moon, when it is full, goes on waning, until it is no more than a crescent, becoming the full moon in time, it will shine forth with magnificent splendor or glory."

A WORD OF WARNING.

A Violation Of The Postal Law
To Place Advertising Matter In Mail Boxes Unless Stamped.

The News would like to warn all of our rural friends against depositing any thing in rural mail boxes except their own letters, or other mail. There have been a number of farmers and stock men fined in other counties of the State because bills with their stock advertised thereon were found in a number of boxes along the routes. Any thing intended to go to any patron of any mail route is required by the post office department to be deposited with the post master stamped and addressed or placed in bulk in one's own mail box, for the rural carriers to distribute. It is not the purpose of the government to let any person touch or open any mail box but their own except the rural carriers, and the boxes, while the private property of the patrons are not to be used as private property or between neighbors.

Farmers' College in Washington.

Five hundred farmers and their wives were at the O. R. N. station this evening to welcome the State college demonstration train. The train stopped here two hours, the farm lectures were given by Professors Lawrence, Severance, Olcese and others. The train consisted of five coaches, one flatcar of improved machinery, and one car of cattle, horses and sheep from the college farm. The contents of the cars were examined by the farmers and their wives with interest. In one of the coaches a lecture was given on raising corn to boys under eighteen years, and several of the boys took samples of the corn and will plant a quarter of an acre each, for the best of which the college will give prizes ranging from $1 to $100. Enough corn will be given away on this trip of the train for 1,000 boys to plant a quarter acre each. Professor Severance takes the boys into separate car and instructs them in the art of planting, cultivating and harvesting the corn. The seed was grown on the college farm and is thoroughly acclimated.—Garfield correspondence Seattle Post Intelligencer.

The Gordian Knot.

When one of Uncle Sam's sailors, a man named Gordon, formerly serving on one of our vessels in a West Indian squadron, was taken to the Naval Hospital in Washington he described with grecious vivacity to his companions there the manner in which a scurvy of the islands in the West Indies, "had just fell over the bulwarks," to the able seaman, "when along comes a big shark an' grabs me by the leg."

"What did ye do then, matey?" asked one of the patients.

"I never disengaged him with sharks," said the sailor. "I let him have the leg!"—Harper's Weekly.

Pensive Butlers.

The fashion of building houses with the entrance directly on a level with the street gives the observing stroller on Fifth avenue some humorous glimpses of butlers on duty.

In the house of one of the most fashionable families in town the butler is seen standing behind a high screen and glass doors staring disconsolately out at the passing throng for most of the afternoon, while across the street from this house the same kind of an entranceway often discloses a glimpse of a functionary of the same class engaged in a similar occupation.

It may be a circumstance that his head is supported by his hand.

Or he may be a lame, broken-backed, old fellow looking men in New York.
